Annual Report

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30TH JUNE, 1963 MEMBERSHIP OF THE SOCIETY

The total membership of the Society as at the 30th June, 1963, was as follows:—

Patrons	41
Colleges	21	(including 10 Patrons, 2 of whom are also Annual Subscribers)
Business firms	44	(including 1 Patron, who is also an Annual Subscriber)
Other Organisations	21	disogna sastroge, in bedsaibus
Other Organisations Private Subscribers	1,265	(including 7 Patrons, who are also Annual Subscribers), of whom 825 are Life Members. 25 Donations have also been received, and two legacies—£400 from Mr. N. Cradock and £100 from Dr. L. B. Turner, both formerly members of the Society. Notification has also been received of a legacy of £100 from Professor Sir Dennis Robertson.

On page 9 is printed an Obituary List containing the names of members of the Society who have died, or whose deaths have become known, during the current year. The Council greatly regrets the loss of these supporters of the Society and would especially mention Miss R. Courtauld, The Very Rev. E. Milner White, Sir Robert Rankin and Mr. A. de Rothschild, for many years Patrons of the Society.

CHANGES IN THE COUNCIL OF MANAGEMENT

At the last Annual General Meeting, Professor Sir Leslie Martin and Alderman F. J. Priest did not stand for re-election, and there was one outstanding vacancy. Mr. Mark Bradford, Professor J. G. D. Clark and Miss E. M. Porter were elected to fill these vacancies.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

Development Plans.

In 1954 the Minister approved, with certain reservations, the Development Plan submitted to him in 1952 on the basis of the 1950 Report of Sir William Holford and Professor Myles Wright after a Public Inquiry lasting seven weeks. The basic principles of the Development Plan were that Cambridge should remain predominantly a University town and that to this end the population should be stabilised at not more than about 100,000 persons and industrial expansion in and near Cambridge limited. Simultaneously, the development of certain villages surrounding Cambridge should be accelerated to take an additional population of approximately 7,500 persons. The provision of a comprehensive road system capable of satisfying traffic requirements in the City was included in the Plan. The Society supported these proposals. Much has been successfully done to stabilise the population in the City and to limit industrial expansion and to enlarge villages round the City. Unfortunately, no progress has been made towards the solution of the outstanding problems, viz., the central area and the traffic. The aim, with which most people would agree, is gradually to develop the centre as a central precinct and, if possible, pedestrian area, to maintain its present character as a Centre common to University, Commercial and Civic interests, and to permit such development as is reasonably possible and desirable without involving an embarrassing increase in traffic. An attempt was made by the Planning Authority and the City to forward the redevelopment of the Lion Yard; a plan was submitted to the Minister in 1958 but rejected by him in August, 1960, after a Public Inquiry lasting 15 days. As to the road system, nothing has been done and indeed an important proposal in the Development Plan for the Inner Relief Road, formerly known as the Spine Relief Road, was held over by the Minister for further consideration at the Quinquennial Review of the Plan. Meanwhile, the traffic position is deteriorating every day, the difficulties of finding adequate parking space continue, and, though the Park Street multi-storey Car Park is nearing completion, the proposal for another in King Street has been rejected by the Minister. Even such a small improvement as the cessation of use as a Car Park of New Square, on which all the important authorities, viz., Planning Authority, City Council and University, are agreed, cannot at present be effected until other Car Parks can be made available. The Development Plan was in many respects strongly opposed by the City on 1952, but apart from minor differences, the Quinquiennial Review Plan was approved by both City and County. A Public Inquiry lasting 28 days took place in 1963, but at the time of writing this Report no decision had been received from the Minister. In this case, however, the University were not in agreement with the Review insofar as they did not think that it met adequately the difficulties of the Centre, or indeed that this centre could ever satisfactorily fulfil its function, and the University suggested the development of another main centre in the City Road Area, which includes Fitzroy Street and Burleigh Street. The proposal was not acceptable to the two Local Authorities even in the somewhat reduced form presented at the Public Inquiry, since they held that a town of the size of Cambridge could not carry two main shopping centres and that the proposal would create serious traffic difficulties. The issue, as stated above, is now before the Minister.

At the beginning of this year, the City appointed Mr. G. Logie, A.R.I.B.A., M.T.P.I., as City Architect and Planner, a step which was welcomed by the Society. In March, 1963, Mr. Logie presented a tentative scheme for the comprehensive redevelopment of the whole of the central area, roughly from Downing Street to the Round Church, the traffic difficulty to be solved by an underground road containing substantial parking facilities, and on 29th April, Mr. Logie addressed a meeting of local members of the Society on his plan. The Council of Management has expressed general sympathy with the aims of the plan but it seems probable that on financial grounds alone the suggested underground road would be impracticable. The City Council has also directed the Architect to explore further the redevelopment in the

City Road area as a secondary shopping centre. It is 13 years since Sir William Holford submitted his Report, and the Council of Management cannot but be seriously disturbed by procedures which involve such frustrating delays.

Slum Clearance

Slum clearance presents another problem. The Government, in pursuance of its slum clearance policy, requested Local Authorities to submit for their approval a slum clearance programme in the form of numbers of houses, not of specific houses and roads. The Local Authorities, naturally anxious to fall in with the Government's views, have tended to include many houses which, though suffering from deficiencies and not up to the standards which would be required for new houses, can hardly be regarded as slums, comparable with those to be found in a number of large cities, and the Government policy of withdrawing housing subsidies except for replacement of slums, has strengthened this attitude. The legislation covering houses unfit for human habitation is contained in the Housing Act, 1957. This lays down that in deciding whether a house is so unfit regard shall be had to certain specified features, e.g., state of repair, freedom from damp, natural lighting, drainage and sanitary conveniences, but the house can only be deemed to be unfit if it is so far defective in one or more of these matters that it is not reasonably suitable for human habitation. It is the duty of the Medical Officer of Health to make representations to the Council (the Public Health Committee) and no one will dispute the qualifications of the Medical Officer of Health and his staff to make representations on these aspects. But a further point has to be considered before any action can be taken, and that is whether the house is or is not capable at a reasonable expense of being rendered fit. There is no definition of 'reasonable expense,' but Section 39 of the Act says that in determining this matter regard shall be had to the estimated cost of the works necessary to render it so fit, and the value which it is estimated that the house will have when the works are completed. If then the Local Authority decided that the house is repairable they can serve a notice on the owner requiring him to do the works, or in default of his doing so they can carry out the works themselves and charge them to the owner. If, however, they decide that it is not repairable, they must serve a notice on the owner and give him an opportunity of appearing and making proposals either with regard to making it fit for human habitation or for some other use other than residential. It is more than doubtful, especially in cases of houses of architectural and historic importance, whether a proper estimate of the works necessary and the cost, and of its value in the open market when the works have been carried out, can properly be placed before the Committee without expert advice from an Architect, a Surveyor or Builder or Land Agent, and qualifications such as these are not within the province of the Medical Officer of Health or his staff.

There is in consequence, undoubtedly a tendency to condemn and close or demolish rather than to give full consideration to the possibilities of rehabilitation. The Minister himself has drawn attention to the desirability in many cases of reconditioning rather than demolition.

The Society is continually faced with problems in connection with houses of architectural and historic importance as will be seen in the paragraphs below in relation to Orchard Street and the Trumpington Cottages. Quite apart from the social undesirability of splitting up neighbours and rehousing old people in distant parts of the City, away from their friends and the shops at which they are known, the destruction of houses which can be reconditioned and in which many people are most willing to live, can only add to the number of new houses to be built at greater cost than that of reconditioning and to the destruction of buildings which add to the character of the street and ultimately of the city.

PROPERTIES

This Estate is being more and more used by Wandlebury Estate. visitors, especially from the City and University, but it is regrettable to have to report that hooliganism is continuing in spite of periodical police patrolling, and there seems to be no solution except the appointment of a permanent Warden. Mr. Pearson who has been acting on behalf of the Society on the Estate has now retired, and the Council consider that there are now funds available for this purpose, though the Society, even with an Annual Grant of £350 from the County Council, is running the Estate at a loss. A difficulty is that there is at present no accommodation which could be offered to a resident Warden, and the Council have been considering the employment of a temporary Warden for weekends to control traffic, to prevent hooliganism and to avoid indiscriminate parking. The Council also propose to make a charge for cars on Saturday, Sunday and Bank Holiday afternoons, and further in view of the inconsiderate and indeed dangerous behaviour of many motor cyclists, to ban motor cycles from the Estate altogether.

The old coloured maps faded almost immediately and new uncoloured maps on new, and it is hoped weatherproof, boards, have been erected at the entrances to the Estate and in the Car Park.

It has also been decided to grant to Mrs. M. Lesniak a lease of the small area until recently occupied by the former gardener, to develop as a bird sanctuary and a small aviary.

Coton Estate. The four Fair View Cottages in Coton forming part of the Society's Catherine Hall Farm let to Mr. Clarke, were condemned. It was agreed by Mr. Clarke that, in the circumstances of to-day, accommodation for one farm worker only was adequate. The Society is accordingly building a bungalow on another site and on its completion it is hoped that the negotiations proceeding for the sale of the four cottages for conversion and preservation will be satisfactorily completed.

Thatched House, Caxton. In pursuance of the Society's policy of limiting its activities to Cambridge and its neighbourhood, the Council has agreed to sell the Thatched House to the present tenant; the sale will include the field opposite which will remain as an Open Space. The consent of the surviving daughter of Major General Hendley, the donor of the Estate, has to be obtained and compensation will be payable to her to offset the loss of income to which she is entitled under the terms on which the Estate is held by the Society. Negotiations were proceeding when this Report was written.

Leper Chapel and Melbourn Cottages. There is nothing to Report on these two properties.

PLANNING PROBLEMS

The general picture has already been described in earlier paragraphs on the main planning problems in Cambridge, and the following paragraphs refer to specific problems.

Orchard Street. This charming early nineteenth-century terrace must clearly be preserved. The Minister, on representations from the Society, has placed the whole terrace on the Statutory List of Buildings of Special Architectural and Historic Interest, and the Historic Buildings Council has agreed in principle to a Grant of approximately 50 per cent to bring these houses into proper condition. This Grant is payable to the owners of individual houses; application must be made by each owner individually and this is being co-ordinated through the Society, which already owns Nos. 1, 4 and 12. No. 6 some years ago was put into excellent condition and the Society has therefore concentrated on the most urgent work of repairing the roofs of Nos. 1–5, with the co-operation of the other owners; it is hoped that by the time this Report is issued this work will have been completed. Since the last Report the problem has been further discussed with, and considered by, the City Council, who are now of the opinion that the houses should be preserved and are willing in principle to consider applications for a Grant under the Local Authorities (Historic Buildings) Act, 1962. There is no doubt, as the example of Nos. 6 and 16 show, that the houses can be rehabilitated.

Trumpington Cottages. There are five cottages involved (Nos. 22–30 High Street) and the two pairs (Nos. 22 and 24 and 26 and 28) are fully described in the Survey and Inventory of the City of Cambridge by the Royal Commission on Historical Monuments (Nos. 334 and 335). They were built very early in the eighteenth century and each pair was originally one house. No. 30 is not included in the Survey but appears to be of the same period. On the representation of the Society the Minister decided to include them in the Statutory List. They are situated between Church Lane and the Coach and Horses Inn and form an important element in the street scene on this main approach to Cambridge. It was learnt with some dismay that the Local Authority was contemplating a Closing Order, but fortunately the City Council did not accept the recommendation of the Public Health Committee and decided that no further action be taken. This is probably not the end of the story and it may be desirable to obtain the opinion of an impartial expert Architect on the possibility of reconverting the two pairs of houses into the original two houses, and then to persuade the owner to carry out the work, perhaps with a Grant under the Local Authorities (Historic Buildings) Act, 1962.

St. Peter's Church. Reference was made in last year's Report to the limited Appeal made by the Society to repair the steeple of this Church, and the Council is glad to report that sufficient money has been collected to meet the expenses of the work, which by the time this Report is issued will no doubt be completed.

New Museums Site. Since the last Report the University has submitted a fresh application for the New Museums Site, in fact two applications, one for an outline permission for the whole site and the other a definite application for development of Stage 1, which would include one high tower surmounted by pinnacles. The Planning Authority, as it was entitled to, asked for further information, but the University preferred to appeal to the Minister as no decision had been given within the normal period of two months. An Inquiry was fixed for June but the University requested the Minister to postpone action while further discussion proceeded. The Council has decided to express no views, pending these discussions.

Meter Car Parking. The Council considered the proposals of the City Council for Meter car parking in the central areas of Cambridge and, whilst not feeling justified in opposing the scheme in principle, expressed its dislike of certain of the proposals, notably those for King's Parade and Trinity Street, and also of the standard Zone Entry signs, in relation to the College and other Cambridge buildings against which they would be set. The Council also asked to be consulted on the siting of the meters. Following the formal submission of the scheme to the Ministry of Transport, an "objection" was lodged to a similar effect, a copy being sent to the Town Clerk. On receipt of his reply promising the desired consultation and saying that the City Council concurred in the Society's observations on the Zone Entry signs and was approaching the Ministry to the same effect, the Society's formal objection was withdrawn.

Merton Farm Barns. Merton College, Oxford, has now sold the barns to a Cambridge resident, who is taking every step to preserve and improve the great barn, which is set at a right angle to the road, but it has not been possible to find any use for the barn alongside the the road, and this will, with the consent of the Planning Authority, be demolished. The owner intends to build a house adjacent to the great barn, in keeping with the surroundings, facing the site of the old street barn, and with a garden between the house and the road. The Council consider this a very satisfactory solution to the problem.

TREASURER'S REPORT

It will be seen from the Society's Accounts for the financial year 1962–63, which are included with this Report, that subscription renewals, life memberships subscriptions, and donations have together shown a very satisfactory increase of over £400 in the 12 months. We are most grateful for this evidence of the increasing interest being shown by members both old and new in the work of the Society.

The picture of our income and expenditure, apart from capital items, remains much the same and we again have a small surplus to carry forward after making a somewhat larger allocation to our repairs reserve fund.

In the Balance Sheet under the item Fixed Assets, the "additions in the year," at £1598, comprise the payments made for the purchase of No. 4 Orchard Street at £428, and the stage payment of £1170 on the new Coton farm cottage, built to replace the condemned Fairview farm cottages in Catharine Hall farm. We have, of course, several other capital commitments outstanding including the remaining cost of the new Coton cottage, the purchase of Orchard Street houses, and the cost of the St. Peter's Church steeple repairs, for which the Special Appeal funds which we raised are earmarked separately. Our investment in Defence Bonds coupled with the impending sales of the Thatched Cottage, Caxton and of the old Fairview cottages site should, however, provide liquid funds sufficient for the year's foreseeable capital outgoings.

If we are to continue to play a truly active part in the preservation of the amenities of Cambridge, we shall increasingly need to expand our membership and in this connection I would like to repeat at the risk of becoming tedious, that existing members could help us immensely by covenanting their subscriptions and thus nearly

that I have obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of my knowledge and belief were necessary for the purpose of my Audit. In my opinion proper Books of Account have been kept by the Society so far as appears from my examination of those Books. In my opinion and to the best of my information and according to the explanations given to me, the above Balance Sheet and the annexed Income and Expenditure Account, which are in agreement with the Books of Account, give the information required by the Companies Act 1948 in the manner so required and give a true and fair view of the state of the Society's affairs as at 30th June 1993, and of the Income and Expenditure for the year ended on that date.

(Signed) R. Chater Blows.
